

Happy Birthday

From the Lower Kindergarten sandbox to the rest of our lives! I miss you more than words can say, B. Counting down the absolute days until we finally reunite. I love you so, so much—literally nobody compares to you! ❤️

To someone special.

Hi home, wishing you a very happy birthday. I hope you're doing well and that your friends threw you a surprise party with a cake. You know what, I miss you so much, B. You have no idea how much I miss you; I miss you like hell. I hope we meet soon. You're turning 24 now; you must have learned about the world, the people surrounding you, and what they are like. That's the reality, but you need to know there are a few good humans around you, like us, who keep you happy, loved, and cared for.

B, enkita soldrathuku avalo ethum ila, na una romba miss pandra, seekram meet pananum namba.
Na namba school days a romba miss pandra,
na Iniya kita aniku sollitu irundan, namba vera vera
class but lunch time la than meet pannuvom, ana Suresh sir kita mattipom nu. Athula oru nalla days.

Shru unaku wish pani text send pana sonala ana enaku ena type pananum nu therila, ana unaku sekrom India vanditu handwritten letter eluthi tharan na eapoum unaku kudukra mari. Sorry, enaku mind la avalo oditu iruku so enaku ena eladanum nu therila B.

Neriya pesanum na, oru naal ne free agitu solu na call pandran or ne panu.
Na una meet pani 1 year achu B. Enaku rombo kastama iruku una paka mudila, pesa mudila.

I love you so much B.
You know that I will always be there for you, I mean it.
No matter what, I am here for my B.

Wishing you a very happy birthday,
lots of love from me, myself and I.

